Turn site metrics into meaningful performance gains with achievable targets and governance

Driving to best-practice metrics without tailoring them to your business can backfire, creating misaligned goals and wasted effort. LeanDNA's Site Performance Assessment helps you set realistic, data-driven targets that reflect your industry, customer expectations, and supply chain maturity.

How LeanDNA Helps

- Benchmark sites against industry averages and best-in-class performers
- Identify realistic short-term and long-term improvement opportunities
- Translate best practices into smart, achievable metrics
- Focus teams on high-probability actions that deliver measurable progress
- Mitigate risks of unrealistic targets and counterproductive behaviors

What's Included

Current state assessment: spend, inventory, and order policies

Benchmarking: compare against industry averages and best-in-class
